The packaging is entirely compostable which means that it will start to decompose in your fridge if you don't use it within 2 days. Either eat or freeze your meal within 48 hours of receiving it. If the package has started to disintegrate in your fridge it means you have left it too long and it is no longer safe to eat.

If your meal is cold (from the fridge):

Oven: Heat oven to 275F; place meal on a tray and heat for 30 minutes.

Microwave: Perforate film with a fork. Heat 2-3 minutes on HIGH.

If your meal is frozen (i.e. you put the meal in the freezer when you received it):

Oven: Heat oven to 350F; place meal on a tray and heat for 30 minutes.

Microwave: Perforate film with a fork. Heat 3-5 minutes on HIGH.
